Following are NPCC’s comments on CAN-0015:

- A CAN should not impose additional requirements.
- It is important that a requirement is met, not how you meet it.
- If it is necessary to use a NERC tool to meet a requirement, then it should be done that way.
- If changes are required, then the NERC Standards Development process should be used.
- A CAN should only be used as a guideline.

Lee Pedowicz
Manager, Reliability Standards
NPCC