The Enterasys switch routing portfolio, (N-Series, A-Series, C-Series, E1 models and Vertical Horizon line) does not support the installation of Antivirus or Antimalware software directly on the operating systems of the switches. The firmware installed on the platforms contains statically linked monolithic images. You cannot download and run code on our platforms, other than code that has been officially built and released by Enterasys.

Sincerely,
James J. Corbett
